

We offer bespoke jargon-free HR services to small and medium-sized businesses, ensuring smooth day-to-day operation, reduced risk of legal non-compliance, and pro-active implementation of practical strategies to prepare your business for growth.

The benefits of outsourced HR

By outsourcing your HR needs, you can have your own expert on-hand when you need them without the constant overhead of a dedicated HR team.

Save time involved in dealing with complex HR issues, allowing your managers to focus on the business priorities.

Reduce impact of negative employee relations issues such as disciplinaries, grievances, performance management and sickness absence.

Minimise the risk of failing to meet legal requirements.

Improve communication with and between staff by defining clear procedures, processes and policies.

Save money by recruiting the right people, keeping them motivated, and improving staff retention.

We offer a range of services depending on where your company is on the business life cycle:

Start-ups

We prepare employment contracts, staff handbooks, people policies and procedures, and assist with recruitment and answer day-to-day HR queries.

Growing companies

We review existing people policies and procedures, and coach team leaders in areas such as managing performance, managing absence and staff development.

Established organisations

We work with senior management to improve employee engagement, develop talent, and deal with issues associated with growth and change.

The company's name - LRM - recognises the central role of Liz Rogers-Mills, a fellow of the Chartered Institute of Personnel and Development, and the director and founder of LRM HR Consultancy.

LRM HR Consultancy works with SMEs at all stages of the business life cycle, providing customised and practical HR advice, guidance and support.

We offer an initial one-hour no-obligation consultation to find out which issues your business needs to address.
